Doing HR Differently

Our Mission

We help people overcome barriers to gainful employment.

Who receives help

Services are provided to people who are unemployed, underemployed, veterans, active-duty Servicemembers, justice-impacted, seniors, working-age youth, and survivors of domestic violence.

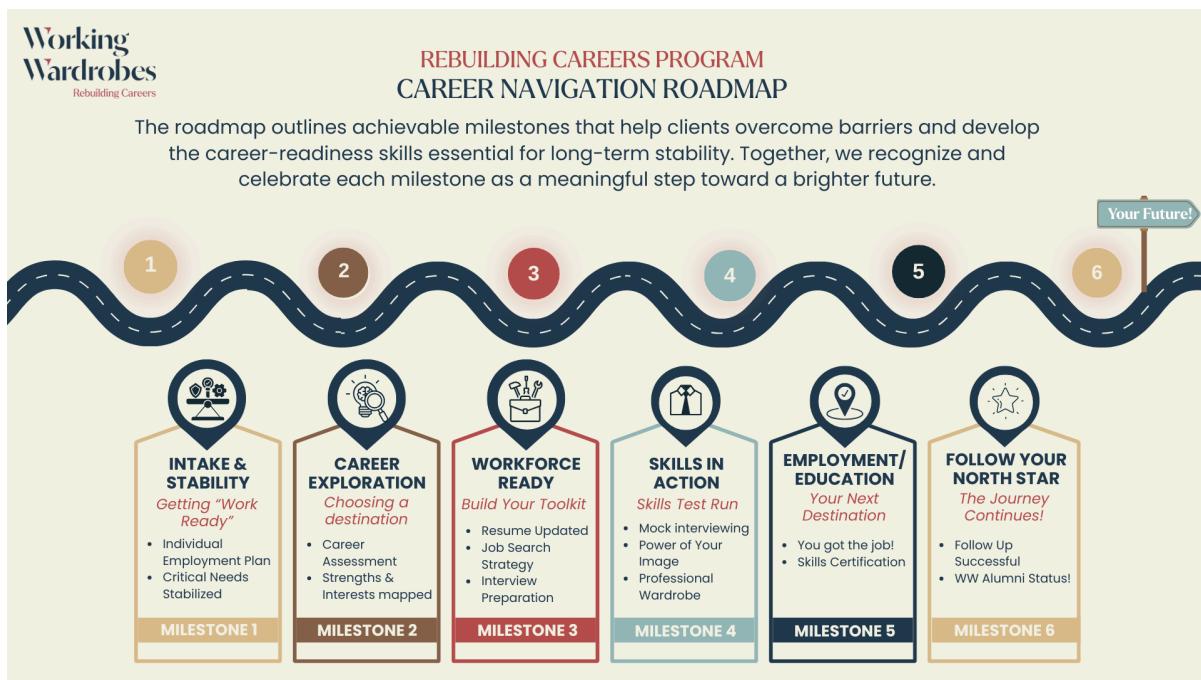

Personalized Support

Every person's Individualized Employment Plan is unique and may include career assessments, resume reviews, interview practice, job search training, workshops, certifications, supportive services, job placement support, and our signature service: personalized styling in a confidence-boosting outfit for the job interview.

Since 1990, Working Wardrobes has reached the lives of over 140,000 individuals on their employment journeys.

Career Navigators (experienced case managers) and Career Coaches (subject-matter experts in the Human Resources field) assist with job search skills, mock interviews, assessments, coaching, navigating hiring processes, strategizing job searches, creating LinkedIn profiles, and services like:

- Career assessments
- Resume updates
- Soft and hard skills trainings
- Secondary Education & Certification programs
- Virtual and in-person workshops
- Personalized styling in an Interview Outfit

Mission in Action: Lynda

Lynda came to Working Wardrobes for a fresh start after overcoming alcoholism. A former hospitality executive, she found both career support and a community that helped restore her confidence. After workshops and resume help, she enrolled in Cornell University's HR certification program—earning straight A's—and is now a full-time VIP concierge at Yaamava' Resort & Casino. We're honored to be part of her next chapter.

Populations Reached

In 2025, Working Wardrobes achieved our largest reach ever, connecting with over 10,000 people through events, outreach, collaborative service approaches, and one-on-one coaching, deepening community engagement and expanding access to our mission across Orange County.

"Working Wardrobes saved my life... No one else in this world has done that much for me."

— Ricky, Client of Working Wardrobes

Community Partner Service Program

By collaborating with over 20 community partners, we enhance our impact through tailored career development programs. These programs, designed to meet specific client needs, include a mix of on-site and off-site workshops, along with individualized or small group wardrobe experiences.

Custom Workshops

Partners choose from our curated menu of topics – either as a full series or individual sessions. Each workshop includes an experienced facilitator and materials delivered onsite at their location.

Professional Wardrobe Services

Partners can engage Working Wardrobes for our signature experience. Participants can be scheduled as a group or referred individually for their wardrobe session, best when paired with The Power of Your Image workshop

Community Partner Spotlight: Simon Scholars

This July, our partnership with the Simon Scholars Program aided 223 young adults by providing career readiness experiences, including one-on-one styling, a “Success Suit,” and a workshop on professional presence. We are empowering the next generation to feel prepared and confident for their future.

Working Wardrobes Named Simon Scholars Partner of the Year

On October 15, 2025, Simon Scholars named Working Wardrobes Partner of the Year, recognizing our decade-long collaboration supporting Scholars with workforce readiness and professional wardrobe experiences. This year, we served over 200 Scholars, staff, and alumni, proudly styling every Simon Scholar for their annual banquet where they practiced their networking skills and celebrated the next chapter to come.

Volunteer Program

Volunteers at Working Wardrobes make a world of difference in our community, ultimately empowering thousands of people by helping quality control and process clothing at the Donation Center, styling clients in Success Suits and shoppers at The Hanger, analyzing data, organizing and creating systems, providing Career Coaching, serving on the Board of Directors or their committees, and more!

Volunteer Spotlight: Vira Career Coach

For more than 11 years, Vira Jo Denney has volunteered as a Career Coach at Working Wardrobes, helping clients identify their strengths, explore career paths, and approach their job search with confidence. “Being able to help people and seeing the lightbulb come on when they realize they have a chance to land a job regardless of obstacles—that’s what keeps me coming back,” she shared.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Days

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Days promote volunteerism within corporate organizations and strengthen mission efforts by establishing partnerships in the community.

Over 10,000 clothing items are processed monthly thanks to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) days at the Donation Center.

What happens at a CSR?

- Greet & accept items from our generous donors.
- Perform Quality Control to curate clothing.
- Sort and process new clothing to dress clients for success.

How does it work?

- Groups consisting of 5 to 20 individuals.
- Three-hour shifts available (9 am-12 pm or 12-3 pm) on Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Saturdays.
- Tasks and projects tailored to align with your team's interests and skills.

CSR Spotlight: Boeing

In September, Boeing volunteers rolled up their sleeves at our Donation Center—sorting, tagging, and processing hundreds of clothing donations that help clients show up with confidence for interviews and their first days on the job. Many items support our Wardrobing Center, while others stock The Hanger retail stores, where 100% of proceeds fuel our mission.

Boeing deepened their impact with a $75,000 grant, strengthening career coaching, workshops, and wardrobing services for job seekers on the path to meaningful employment.

Power Up For Success

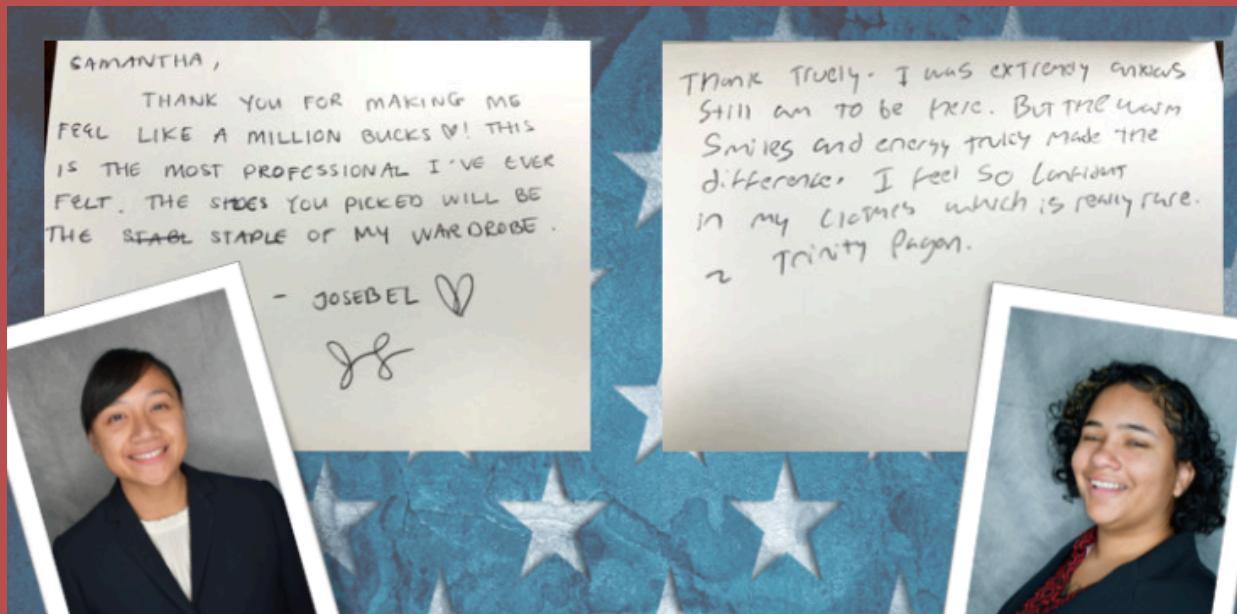

Power Up For Success is a signature event that delivers multiple career-readiness services and support in one day. Helping people feel confident, prepared, and interview-ready as they pursue meaningful employment.

100 participants received interview-ready outfits, professional headshots, and personal branding guidance—helping lead to 45 conditional job offers.

On May 20 at Camp Pendleton's MilSpouse Career and Hiring Symposium, Working Wardrobes partnered with the Family Member Employment Assistance Program to support military spouses through our Power Up for Success initiative, providing professional wardrobe services and career readiness workshops for transitioning service members and their spouses.

Mission in Action: Their Thanks

Rebuilding Careers Coalition (RCC)

The Rebuilding Careers Coalition (RCC) is a giving collective of individuals and corporations dedicated to empowering people in our community. Through monthly and annual donations, the Coalition helps jobseekers overcome barriers to employment.

RCC members raised over $50,000 to fund wrap-around workforce readiness services for 25 clients.

While experiencing homelessness, Fernando found a fresh start at Working Wardrobes. He completed the workforce readiness program and reignited his passion for culinary arts, and now he thrives as a chef.

Why Join the Coalition?

“ — Carla Fitzgerald

“It's a privilege to support Working Wardrobes in its mission of empowering people to gain the "dignity of work". I believe much of our identity and self-worth is tied to the work we do. Struggling to find work – which I've personally experienced – can be devastating mentally and emotionally, not just financially.

The people at Working Wardrobes don't just offer practical skills and resources (though important), they also offer emotional support, encouragement, and deep caring to help people build an arsenal of confidence and coping skills. It's a hugely impactful program run by authentic, dedicated people, and I am proud to be a small part of its success.”

2025 Annual Gala: The Power of One

The Power of One Gala was a powerful celebration of 35 years of creating dignity, confidence, and meaningful work. It brought our community together to honor job seeker journeys and to support what comes next. Proceeds from the evening helped fuel Working Wardrobes programs, including career coaching, skills-building workshops, and professional wardrobe services that prepare people for interviews, new opportunities, and lasting career success.

Jill Schulman was honored with a Quilt of Valor, a meaningful tribute acknowledging her service and the sacrifices she has made in support of our country. A former U.S. Marine Corps Officer, Jill is now a leadership expert and Bravery Coach who has inspired Working Wardrobes clients at multiple events. Her work centers on a powerful belief: bravery isn't the absence of fear, it's taking forward motion in spite of it.

Mission in Action: Quilt of Valor

Honoring Jerri Rosen at The Power of One Gala

We honored the life and legacy of Working Wardrobes Founder and 31-year CEO, Jerri Rosen, who passed away in May. Her vision and compassion that shaped Working Wardrobes were celebrated as we recommitted to carrying it forward so that more people can step into their next chapter with confidence and opportunity.

Jerri Rosen Celebration of Life

Jerri Rosen, the founder of Working Wardrobes, passed away on May 14, 2025. On June 26, 2025, our community gathered at the Career Success Center to honor her extraordinary life and legacy. The Celebration of Life was filled with heartfelt stories, laughter, tears, and a shared commitment to carry Jerri's vision forward.

Working Wardrobes exists because of Jerri's grit, compassion, and belief in people. What began in 1990 as a one-day event serving 67 women has grown into a movement that has supported more than 135,000 individuals on their path to meaningful employment—an enduring testament to Jerri's impact.

Jerri Rossen Legacy Society

Jerri Rosen believed in the Power of One, that one person and one moment can change everything. The Legacy Fund carries her vision forward, empowering people to rebuild their lives with dignity.

Working Wardrobes Donation Center

Over 550,000 new and gently used clothing and accessories were donated and given a second life in 2025.

We pride ourselves on being good stewards of our community and the environment through upcycling, re-donating, and recycling efforts.

Upcycle – After undergoing a comprehensive quality-control check, business clothing, shoes, and accessories are provided to the Wardrobe Center to outfit clients in their perfect Success Suit. Clothing is also sent to The Hanger retail store locations where shoppers can purchase these gently-loved garments to provide them with a new life and help fund the mission.

Re-donate – Due to the generosity of our amazing apparel donors, we supply other local nonprofits with excess merchandise.

Recycle – Clothing that is too damaged to wear is provided to a textile recycler. Nothing goes to waste or landfills.

What's Ahead in 2026?

New collaborations with community partners

We are kicking off the year by expanding access to career readiness services through new and strengthened community partnerships across the county—bringing professional wardrobe support and confidence-building resources closer to job seekers and the communities they serve.

First annual The Power Within Signature Luncheon (March 27)

Launching in 2026, The Power Within Luncheon will be a new signature celebration honoring five extraordinary women and rallying our community to invest in career pathways that help job seekers step into what's next with confidence.

Power Up For Success event (May 14)

Returning to Camp Pendleton in May, this Power Up For Success event will support military spouses with career-readiness resources—helping participants show up prepared, polished, and interview-ready for meaningful employment.
